99-YEAR-OLD DIED WITH LOST LOVE'S PHOTO

At the age of only 26, Elizabeth's heart was broken when Eric, the man she planned to marry, was poisoned. She was left with a single photograph of her fiancé. When she died in her sleep last month, aged 99, she was holding that photograph. Time never healed her wounds sufficiently for her to fall in love again and her age did not fade her memories of her 29-year-old fiancé. In her last days, Elizabeth lost the will to eat but not the desire to look at the photograph of Eric. Elizabeth spent her last five years at the nursing home. A charge nurse said, "Elizabeth was a lovely little lady. After her death, I took the photo and when I looked at the photograph, I found a handwritten message on the back".
