Kazimierz Dolny is a town in Poland which both has panoramic views and historic attractions. Despite this natural and historic beauty, most people don't know anything about this lovely town. Like most historic Polish towns, Kazimierz Dolny has an old town square too. The market square in the old town is called the Rynek. The tourists who visit here are mostly interested in the old well in the heart of the square. There are splendid restaurants and cafes that surround this ancient well. They serve traditional food, nice coffee and ice cream. After a short walk between trees in Korzeniowy Dol Gorge, which is a picturesque countryside, people rest at these peaceful places. Another destination which must be seen is the magnificent Hill of Crosses. A fantastic view of the town and the river Wisla, especially at sunset, welcomes the nature lovers after climbing hundreds of the stairs to the top of the hill.
