Games are learner-centered activities and they can be considered as an excellent opportunity for students in terms of taking responsibility for their own learning. Being one of the most essential components in foreign language classes, thanks to the advantages, games are frequently used in learning and teaching English as well.

It is a well-known fact that games are educationally valuable, and they can be highly motivating and challenging. Providing a meaningful context for language use, they encourage students to interact, communicate and sustain the effort of learning (Lee, 1995). Games allow students to analyze the information and develop their critical thinking skills (Lujan et al., 2006), and they also develop problem-solving skills through choices students make during a game (Feinstein et al., 2002). Furthermore, it is known that games can lower anxiety and contribute to second language acquisition. Enabling students to acquire new experiences within a foreign language and adding diversion to the regular classroom activities, they create a relaxed learning atmosphere (Fromme, 2003; McFarlane and Sakellariou, 2002).

Supporting the teaching methods used frequently in the classroom, the games and activities included in the book are quite useful for not only teachers but also students. The book offers teachers to have the opportunity to learn about various types of games and activities that can enhance learning process while adding fun to class. Besides, it is a great book for students to take responsibility for their own learning thanks to the games and activities that let them work individually, in pairs, in groups and as a whole class.

With this book, it is aimed to make learning more effective and meaningful by providing a competitive, participatory and enjoyable educational environment. Another aim of this book is to help students develop self-confidence and build higher self-esteem. Moreover, thanks to the interactive games and activities, it is intended that students use the four basic language skills integrated with each other more effectively.

It is purposed that students are provided with the knowledge and skills determined in line with the language functions in the curriculum effectively, acquire various skills, apply these skills in different situations and enjoy while doing all of these.

We believe the games and activities will be useful for our students.

FUNCTIONS

F3 Asking and answering questions in an interview

1 Acrostic Irregular Verbs Puzzle

This activity aims to revise and practise irregular verbs in their present and past tense forms.

Materials and Preparation

Copy the worksheet on page 149 and make sure that each student in the class has one.

Procedure

- 1 Give each student a copy of the worksheet and ask them to read and complete the sentences with the given words. Have them work individually.
- 2 Allow 10-15 minutes for this and then stop the activity and elicit the answers.
- 3 Divide students into pairs—one of the pairs is Student A, and the other is Student B. Tell them that Student As are supposed to fill in the puzzle with the odd-numbered words while Student Bs are supposed to do it with the even-numbered words. Ask them to use the past simple forms of the verbs with which they have completed the sentences in 'Exercise A' as clues.
- 4 When students have finished filling in their own parts, have them work in pairs to ask/answer questions about the missing parts so that they can complete their puzzles and find the hidden phrase together.
- 5 Once students have finished, elicit the answers and finally ask for the hidden phrase (CULTURAL HERITAGE).

2 Past Tense Rush

This activity aims to have students correctly use past simple forms of irregular verbs and make past simple affirmative or negative statements by using time expressions.

Materials and Preparation

Copy and cut up the action cards and time cards on page 150 and the game board on page 151 for each pair.

Procedure

- 1 Divide students into pairs—one of the pairs is Student A, and the other is Student B. Give out one set of action cards, a set of time cards, and a game board to each pair. Have students shuffle each set and spread them face down on the table in two separate sets.
- 2 Inform students about the following rules of the game:
 - Students are supposed to pick up an action card and a time card and make a correct sentence. To do this, they need to make an affirmative or negative past simple sentence by using the words/phrases on the cards. For example, if a student picks up the cards 'build' and 'four years ago', s/he might say, "They built/didn't build a house by the lake four years ago."
 - If a student makes an incorrect sentence, his/her turn is over. If s/he makes a correct sentence, s/he puts a tick (Student A) or a cross (Student B) to the first hexagon adjacent to his/her letter (A or B) that is marked 'Start' and his/her turn ends.

THEME 7 WORLD HERITAGE

FUNCTIONS

- F1 Talking about past events
F2 Making inquiries
F3 Asking and answering questions in an interview

- The aim of the game is to make a continuous, unbroken line of ticks or crosses from one's own 'Start' hexagon (A or B) to the 'Finish' hexagon.
 - A student cannot cross the other student's line; if s/he cannot make another move without crossing the other's line, s/he forfeits the game.
 - The first player that can create an unbroken chain from her first hexagon to the last becomes the winner. (See the example on the right.)
- 3 If you want students to make more sentences, you can allow students to cross the others' line. Monitor while walking around the classroom and help when necessary. You do not have to wait for each pair to have a winner; you can stop the activity after an appropriate length of time.

3 Once upon a Square

This activity aims to have students make past simple affirmative and negative sentences with past time expressions and practise changing regular/irregular verbs into their past simple forms.

Materials and Preparation

Copy the game board on page 152 and make sure that each group in the class has one. Each group should have a dice, and each student should have one counter or something equivalent to move across the board.

Procedure

- 1 Divide students into groups of three or four and give a copy of the game board and a dice to each group. Make sure that all group members have a counter (or something equivalent) of their own. Tell students that they need to roll the dice and move their counter along the board in turns.
- 2 Inform students about the following rules of the game:
 - Once a student lands on a square, s/he is supposed to make a past simple affirmative or negative sentence with the time expression and verb phrases given in the squares.
 - If s/he cannot make a correct sentence, s/he needs to go back to his/her previous square.
 - The first person that can reach the finish square becomes the winner.
- 3 Monitor while walking around the classroom and help when necessary. You do not have to wait for each group to have a winner; you can stop the activity after an appropriate length of time.
